

The Free Bethlehem Campaign: Twin Cities

FREE BETHLEHEM CAMPAIGN

Bethlehem is one of the most historically significant towns in Palestine. It is known as the birthplace of King David and of Jesus. And, for generations, it was a lively and bustling town. But, today, Bethlehem resembles an open-air prison, occupied by Israel's military and encircled by Israel's wall. These circumstances have caused Bethlehem's population, particularly its once-vibrant Christian population, to emigrate from the city in dramatic numbers.

AAPER invites you to join its Free Bethlehem Campaign in December by attending a showing of the documentary Sacred Space Denied, and joining in on a discussion about the film and the situation in Bethlehem.
